Seattle – To mark its first anniversary, Chihuly Garden and Glass has partnered with the local arts community to offer four days of performances and programming events celebrating the artists and organizations that create the cultural fiber of Seattle.

“For us, some of the most memorable moments of this year, in addition to seeing the smiles on our guest’s faces, have been when we host events that showcase the creativity of our community,” said Michelle Bufano, executive director, Chihuly Garden and Glass. “That is what this anniversary is about -- celebrating the city and artists that have supported and embraced us.”

From Saturday, May 18 through Tuesday, May 21, Chihuly Garden and Glass will present rotating performances of dance, comedy, theater, music and more. Activities will take place within exhibition spaces, including the Glasshouse and Theater with each day offering a specific focus:
